

NSS IIT MANDI CAREER GUIDANCE TO ORPHAN STUDENTS

NSS unit IIT Mandi organized a career development and guidance programme for three students of Divya Manav Jyoti Anathalya (orphanage), Dehar, Mandi, Himachal Pradesh. The program emphasis as on different engineering examinations and also guided the students to enable them to make conscious career choices that come critical in the long run.

The program began on 24th March 2014 when the three students, Avishesh, Suryakant, and Ashish arrived at IIT Mandi. The students have been with the NSS unit of the IIT Mandi up to 4th April 2014. The members of NSS unit not only guided them but also shared with them their experiences of competitive examinations in general, and the JEE in particular. The members of the NSS also took them on a round tour of seemingly trivial tricky skills that are at the heart of clearing competitive examinations.

NSS volunteers are guiding orphan students for competitive examinations

The academic part of the session involved revision of Physics, Chemistry and Math topics from 11th and 12th standard so that even the tiniest doubt can also be removed from the students' mind. They were also taught to use analytical breakdown as their primary way to approach any scientific problem. The students were enthusiastic and joyous in their learning. They were keen to prove that any competitive examination can be cracked if there is proper guidance and proper will.